Commonly used spreadsheets can be uploaded to Google Pages, Google Sheets or Wordpress. Alternatively you can use the table directly as a JSON file. Spread2Web Source Code: Spread2Web Demo: Free and Open Source: Does anyone know a program or a library that can parse this string and store it as an array, e.g. {"1":"A", "2":"B"} with the values being strings? A: This would be pretty simple to do with regular expressions. This also assumes there are only two types of values: integers and strings. $data = '{"1":"A", "2":"B"}'; $array = array(); if (preg_match('/^\{\d+:\s*"d+"\s*\}$/i', $data, $matches)) { $array['1'] = $matches[1]; $array['2'] = $matches[2]; } // Check each value if (isset($array['1'])) { echo $array['1']; } \]. Collectively, these studies demonstrate that epigenetic events can regulate gene expression in the absence of active transcription and can be a transcriptional response to environmental stresses. The DNA hypomethylation induced by MeCP2 overexpression in our animal model might result from the inhibitory activity of HDAC on DNMT and the stimulatory effects of increased CREB and TAX proteins on DNMT expression, thus raising new insights into the pharmacological strategies to promote neural differentiation of neural progenitors \[@pone.0163277.ref042\].
